

IN-CLASSROOM VS. ONLINE FORMAT

IS THE IN-CLASSROOM FORMAT RIGHT FOR ME?

You are able to commit to being on campus several days each month.

Your workplace provides you with sufficient flexibility to pursue studies during standard business operating hours.

You enjoy synchronous learning with an engaged group at the same time and in the same location.

You are seeking to network with a variety of individuals from different industries.

You enjoy in-classroom discussions and collaborations facilitated by a lecturer.

IS THE ONLINE FORMAT RIGHT FOR ME?

Geographical barriers prevent you from reaching the GIBS campus in Illovo, Sandton, Johannesburg.

You have time/work pressures and prefer to work in the evenings.

You prefer the flexibility of tailoring learning according to the pace and conditions you are able to manage considering the availability of your time, your location at a specific point in time, and your personal situation.

You are able to manage your time well to balance work, studies and socialisation.

You have access to a laptop/ desktop with consistent and reliable internet connection.

You are motivated to take ownership of your own progress.
